

Poets on Poems

We will have a new feature beginning in the next issue of the journal entitled "Poets on Poems". Several well known poets and critics have been contacted and asked to choose a favourite poem of theirs by Robert Graves and to write a few to a few hundred words on the poem, give it a close reading, provide a related anecdote or even to offer a response in verse. The first of these responses will be included in the next issue.

Ian Firla and Patrick McGuinness