

GRAVESIANA

THE JOURNAL OF THE ROBERT GRAVES SOCIETY

Deadline for submission: 30 April 2021

Soliciting articles for the Summer issue of Gravesiana, The Journal of the Robert Graves Society, a peer-reviewed journal publishing scholarly articles concerning Robert Graves and topics of related interest. Topics include early twentieth century British poetry, World War I and its ongoing influence on contemporary history and culture, early modernist poetry, myth and literature, historical fiction, and twentieth century feminisms, Robert Graves and European media, literature and the writing arts, film, music, art and design, drama and dance or fine art, Robert Graves and the politics or aesthetics of illness and trauma.

Articles should be between 3500 and 5000 words. For a style sheet see

<http://www.robertgraves.org/gravesiana/index.php?id=21>

All articles will be blind-refereed.

Gravesiana is available as an electronic journal at <http://robertgraves.org/gravesiana>. Contributors are encouraged to visit our website.

Send submissions and/or questions to:

Michael Joseph

Editor, Gravesiana: The Journal of the Robert Graves Society

mjoseph@rutgers.edu